The books of Author Roosevelt throw President Roosevelt down hard.

When Judge Parker broke the silence the pieces seem to have hit a lot of unsuspecting Republicans.

It is claimed that the cork supply ply is nearly exhausted. The corked supply, however, will still be undiminished.

The Washington Post says President Roosevelt fluently speaks French. Next time we hear from him he will be profanely speaking United States.

A Pennsylvania woman is suing her husband for divorce because he has bought her but one dress in sixteen years. It is natural to presume that what she wants is redress now.

Is there to be a landslide for Parker? Even little Rhode Island, catching the spirit of enthusiasm, confidently declares that she will give her electoral vote to Parker and Davis.

The Republican spell-binders are running over each other in making speeches for the defense. This shows that they realize that the indictment against Roosevelt and the G. O. P. is something serious.

The Democratic campaign managers continue to give out information that leads us to suggest to Roosevelt that he has got only three days left in which to pick out the place where he is to hit the ceiling next Tuesday.

Baldwin's air ship which got away and went adrift at St. Louis a few days ago has landed in the river near Keokuk, Iowa. It came down, no doubt, to give Roosevelt the right of way to a sky high stunt next Tuesday.

Says the Salisbury Sun: "A calico dress can now be bought for a few cents—yet there are men who persist in remaining in the bachelor class." On the other hand, the girls insist that they do not belong to the calico class. What are we to do about it?

Democratic National Committeeman Sullivan comes forward with the claim that Illinois will give Parker 35,000 plurality. That is a pretty stiff claim but it must be remembered that Cleveland carried that State by more than two-third of that plurality.

A mean Republican paper in Philadelphia attempted to slur the South by saying that it does not celebrate the Fourth of July. The fact that lots of us are viewing the landscape with one eye and doing our eating with one hand stamps the lie on ignorant or malignant assertions like that.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING.

Jacob's Run Overtaxed With Private Sewerage Connections—Superintendent's Monthly Report of Department.

The County Board of Health met in regular monthly session yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Present were, Mayor Springer, presiding; Dr. C. T. Harper, secretary; Dr. A. H. Harriss and Mr. M. W. Jacobi. A number of matters of importance to the public health were discussed, but immediate action was not required.

The Mayor and Dr. Harper, city superintendent of health, were appointed a committee to confer with the city attorney and get a legal opinion upon the matter of private sewer connections with Jacob's Run, which is declared unsanitary for any other than drainage purposes. A number of property owners have turned their sewers into the drain and others have recently done so, in spite of the Board's declaration that any further pollution of the natural drain is a menace to the public health. The city attorney will be asked for an opinion as to the method of procedure against parties who have disregarded the order of the Department.

Dr. C. T. Harper submitted the monthly report of the Health Department for October, showing 47 deaths, 20 of the decedents being white and 27 colored; 62 births, 26 being white and 36 colored; 31 fumigations; 18 quarantines for diphtheria, one for scarlet fever and three for smallpox; 731 orders for lime and acid for disinfecting purposes were issued; scavengers made 1,771 reports; trash carts removed 1,223 loads of garbage and the health officers made 3,612 inspections. The diphtheria and smallpox cases are well under control and are diminishing in number.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Beginning to-morrow night the Sunday night services at the First Baptist church will be at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock, as heretofore.

— The deed transferring the Chadbourn Lumber Co. property to the Waccamaw Land and Lumber Co. was filed for record yesterday.

— The Health Department yesterday lifted the quarantine for diphtheria at the home of Mr. P. N. Fick, 14 South Fourth street, his son, Carl Fick, having recovered.

— Tickets for the State and National election next Tuesday were received yesterday by Chairman Geo. L. Peschau from Democratic headquarters at Raleigh.

— By deed filed for record yesterday John H. Hanby transferred to Basil H. Marshall and wife, for $600, property on south side of Dock, 69½ feet west of Ninth street, 33x99 feet in size.

— Cotton receipts yesterday were only 2,321 bales, against 5,164 same day last year. The local market remains steady at 9½c. for middling. New York spot was steady yesterday at 10.15.

— The Cape Fear Club has made arrangements to take full election returns next Tuesday night. Manager Sale has already had an instrument installed and an operator will take the returns in the club direct from New York.

— Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. W. C. Thomas, of Wilmington, is moving in his equipment for his mattress factory at the corner of East Seventh street and the railroad, and has installed an electric motor."

— Capt. W. F. Robertson, Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias in the domain of North Carolina, has received an invitation to be present and deliver an address in Asheville on the occasion of the annual gathering of the Pythians of the Tenth District on December 9th and 10th.

— The box for the Lutheran Orphans' Home, at Salem, Va., will be sent next week. The committee will be at the Memorial Building Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 6 o'clock to receive articles of clothing, groceries and cash contributions.

— Matthew Robeson, colored, was the lone offender in the police court yesterday. He was drunk and fell by the wayside at Ninth and Orange streets, whence he was sent down by Policeman A. D. Smith. The Mayor fined Matthew $5 and costs.

— The Co-operative Building and Loan Association, in accordance with the advertisement elsewhere in this issue, opens its 12th series of stock to-day. Mr. Thos. H. Wright, the secretary, says over 650 shares have already been spoken for. This shows the Association is growing steadily and is fast becoming one of the best financial institutions.

— Every year a large delegation goes from Wilmington to witness the annual Thanksgiving contest between the football teams of the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia. Parties are already being made up here to attend the game. A number will catch the Seaboard special from Raleigh at Hamlet and others will go via Atlantic Coast Line.

U. S. COURT ADJOURNS

Bill of Exceptions Filed to Judge Purnell's Order in the Southern Saw Mill Case.

DATE OF HEARING CHANGED.

Matter Will Come Up Before Circuit and District Judges in Raleigh To-day Week—No Other Matters of Importance Yesterday.

The United States Circuit and District courts for the Eastern District of North Carolina, Judge Thomas R. Purnell presiding, took a recess for the term yesterday forenoon, after the mere formality of opening had been observed and it had been ascertained that there were no cases for trial and no motions therein. Judge and Mrs. Purnell expect to leave to-day for their home in Raleigh. They have been guests at the home of Mr. S. P. Collier.

Before the adjournment of court Messrs. Iredell Meares, of Wilmington, and R. E. Lee, of Lumberton, solicitors for the complainants in the case of Robert L. Forrest and others of Philadelphia, against the Southern Saw Mill Works and W. J. Edwards, receiver, filed a bill of sixteen exceptions to Judge Purnell's order on Tuesday, suspending the taking of testimony at Lumberton, continuing the hearing before Judge Purnell in Raleigh on November 15th, and the consolidation of the case with that of the Carolina Northern Railroad. The order begins: "And now comes the complainant and files, this the third day of November, 1904, his exceptions to the order of his Honor Thomas R. Purnell, District Judge, entered the first day of November, 1904, revoking the order heretofore made by his Honor Jeter C. Pritchard, Circuit Judge, dated at Asheville, October 26th, 1904."

The first exception is on the ground that the order was granted on motion of defendant W. J. Edwards, receiver, who is but a nominal party to the suit and as receiver, an officer of the court, and not such a real party to the bill as to be entitled to move for orders from the court. (2) That the order of Circuit Judge Pritchard, returnable November 3rd, being an order to show cause and appointing a special examiner, fixed the date for the hearing, and such order could not be vacated by the District Judge, under the rules of comity, established by long practice and the Revised Statutes of the United States. (3) That that order could not be granted without notice and that no legal notice was served on the complainants; that, before entering an appearance, Pou & Fuller, of Raleigh, attempted to give their personal notice by telegram but at the time they were not counsel of record. Here are given the exchange of telegrams between the solicitors, the court and Cameron F. MacRae, the special examiner. (5) That the order being granted without notice, constructive or otherwise, as was apparent to the court from the record, it was therefore improvident and should be vacated. (6) That the cause was not before the District Judge to make orders before the date set by the Circuit Judge at Wilmington, Nov. 3rd; that the District Judge had declined to hear the case, previous to the motion upon which the said order was granted as appears by the letter and telegrams the District Judge filed with the record, which documents are incorporated in the exceptions.

Exception 7 sets out that the District Judge files with the papers no answer to a telegram from Circuit Judge Pritchard stating that the Circuit Judge would hear the case at Asheville Saturday, Nov. 5th, and says that on the following morning the District Judge improvidently granted the order complained of, two days before the date when the case was set down for hearing. Exception 8 questions the authority of the court, at that stage of the proceedings, before the return day, to make an order consolidating the cases for that leave had been granted by the Circuit Judge to file this bill and make defendant, W. J. Edwards, receiver, a party defendant, and the real parties to the controversy were not at that time before the court. Exception 9 sets out that the original suit of the railroad against the saw mill was not one for foreclosure nor a creditors' bill, nor was it brought on behalf of the complainant, nor was any order made in that suit, requiring parties to come in and make themselves parties, all of which the record in that case discloses, while the present action is a bill in equity to foreclose a morigage, the trustee nor mortgage bondholders being parties to the other suit, and it is brought on behalf of the complainant and all others who may make themselves parties. Exception 10 is that an order consolidating the cases cannot be legally made without notice and an opportunity to be heard by the parties to both suits. Exception 11 is that the bill of equity cannot be legally treated as an intervention in the former suit, for it alleges new matter and is not relative to the issues raised in the pleadings of the railroad suit as will appear from the pleadings in the respective suits. Exception 12 is that the complainant railroad in the former suit and the defendant saw mill are insolvent and the defendant in this suit, W. J. Edwards, is the receiver of both the plaintiff and the defendant corporations and the consolidation, if made, could not be made upon his motion, without notice to the real parties and without a hearing. Exception 13 is that the order suspending the hearing at Lumberton before C. F. MacRae, special examiner, was upon the false suggestion, orally made, that Mr. MacRae was the co-partner of Iredell Meares, one of the solicitors for the complainant, whereas he is not, nor has he ever been his partner, associate or clerk. Exception 14 declares it was immaterial to said examination whether Receiver Edwards had been subpoenaed on Sunday or not, as he had been previously served with the order of Judge Pritchard and was at Lumberton and could have been served instanter on that day. Exception 15 sets out how no harm could have come of the examination at Lumberton and the last exception declares the order granted contrary to law and the rules and practices of the court, and the complainant is entitled to have the same vacated.

Since the original order, the date of hearing has been changed to Saturday, Nov. 12th, before Judges Pritchard and Purnell, at Raleigh.

HALF DEAD IN RIVER MARSH.

Foreman in Cotton Mill and Former Policeman Died as Result of Exposure and Exhaustion.

Exhausted, benumbed by the cold and half-conscious as the result of long exposure, Mr. N. M. Hunt, lately a policeman of the city and until recently a foreman in the Wilmington Cotton Mills, was found by Mr. R. A. Burnett, early yesterday afternoon, lying on his back in a marsh at the mouth of Brunswick river, three miles below Wilmington. Mr. Burnett was in a boat on the river, hunting, and was attracted by a peculiar noise to the spot where the man lay. Mr. Burnett formerly worked in the cotton mill as a foreman with Mr. Hunt and he very soon identified him. With difficulty the form was lifted into the boat and Mr. Burnett rowed to the city as quickly as possible. Reaching here, the ambulance was hastily summoned and the patient was hurried to the hospital, where he died at 2:30 this A. M. with œdema of the lungs.

Mr. Hunt, in company with a friend, started on a gunning trip in a boat down the river Thursday morning. After going some distance, from all that can be learned, the friend came ashore and returned to the city, Mr. Hunt continuing on down the stream. It is supposed that some time during the afternoon or night before last the boat capsized with Mr. Hunt and he was forced to swim ashore; that when he reached the marsh he was exhausted and could proceed no further. He must have lain there nearly 24 hours. It was exceedingly fortunate that Mr. Burnett should have happened along there in his boat before life was extent. Mr. Hunt has a mother and a half brother. His wife died some time ago, leaving no children. The brother was with him at the hospital and had been since the patient was taken there about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

RECEIVER FOR STEAMBOAT CO.

Corporation Operating Steamers Hurt and Hawes in Hands of D. McEachern, Esq.

Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy returned last night from Kenansville where, as counsel for Mr. H. L. Vollers and other creditors of Wilmington, he appeared before Judge Fred Moore, holding Duplin Superior Court, and secured an order throwing the Cape Fear and Peoples' Steamboat Company, of this city and Fayetteville, into the hands of a receiver. The complaint sets forth that the corporation, which operates the steamers "E. A. Hawes" and "A. P. Hurt" between Wilmington and Fayetteville and owns some real estate in the latter city, is entirely insolvent; that its property is depreciating in value; that the company is indebted to various and sundry creditors in amounts of about $5,000 and is unable to discharge them in full.

Mr. D. McEachern was appointed temporary receiver under bond of $1,000 and will immediately take charge of the property and dispose of it or operate it to the best interest of all concerned. The defendant company, through its officers or stockholders, is cited to appear before Judge Moore, in chambers, at Kinston, N. C., on Nov. 27th, and show cause why the receivership should not be made permanent. In the meantime all persons are restrained from interfering with the property of the company or its receiver. The claim of Mr. Vollers, the petitioning creditor, is for something over $250 on an unpaid note.

Dr. Hale's Special Sermons.

The subject to be discussed by Pastor Fred D. Hale at 11 o'clock Sunday, at the First Baptist church, will be "Close Communion." The night service will begin at 7:30 instead of 8, as heretofore. The subject for the night sermon will be "The Theatre." The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the close of the night sermon.

Dr. Strange Begins Duties.

The Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop Coadjutor, will leave to-day for a series of official visitations to a number of parishes in the East Carolina Diocese, performing the first functions of the high office in the church to which he was consecrated last Tuesday. Bishop Strange will be away about six weeks, returning home just before Christmas.

RALLY OF DEMOCRATS

Hons. G. B. Patterson and H. L. Godwin Heard With Interest Here Last Night.

MEETING IN COURT HOUSE.

Music by Delgado Band and Manifestation of the First Enthusiasm of the Campaign—State and National Issues Ably Discussed.

The appointment of Hon. G. B. Patterson, congressman, and Hon. H. L. Godwin, of Harnett, Democratic nominee for elector, both from the Cape Fear district, brought out the largest by far the most representative political gathering of the campaign in New Hanover at the Court House last night. The appearance here of Mr. Patterson and Mr. Godwin had been made the occasion of a Democratic rally by Chairman George L. Peschau, of the county executive committee, and, in spite of the rain and threatened storm, the speaking was a great success. The Delgado Band furnished music; tar barrels were set afire in different parts of the city and the first real enthusiasm of the campaign was provoked. The court room was well filled with people who paid good attention to the speakers and were generous in their applause.

Chairman Peschau called the meeting to order and in a brief address admonished all Democrats to go to the polls on Tuesday and vote, as the influence of New Hanover in the State and district would be largely determined in the future by the vote in the pending election. He closed by saying that Mr. Iredell Meares would introduce one of the distinguished speakers of the evening.

Mr. Meares said every one would recall the trying times here in '98. There was one present who at that time was noto bliged by his citizenship to be with the people of Wilmington, but as a matter of fact, he was here, and with his sturdy Scotch following, Captain Gilbert B. Patterson, of the Maxton Guards, rendered valiant service; since that little unpleasantness he had been sent from his district to Congress, and his record there was one of which he might well be proud. Mr. Meares took pleasure in presenting Hon. G. B. Patterson.

Mr. Patterson was received with applause. He thanked Mr. Meares but modestly claimed no credit for what he had done here in '98. It was a pleasure for him to be here then; it was a pleasure two years ago and it was a pleasure now. He said he came to bring a message of confidence from the Democracy of the Sixth district. New Hanover people needed no instructions about how to vote. They were like the proverbial billy goat at the convention of animals when they voted by raising their tails; the people of New Hanover had as good as already voted. They were and always would be safely in the Democratic fold. Mr. Patterson first took up State issues and accepted the Republican challenge to a comparison of records. The dark days of reconstruction were reviewed, the reckless extravagance that prevailed, the outrages to which Southern white men were subjected. Then the return to Democracy for a period was taken up and next the return to fusion rule as the result of the unrest of the people brought on by Republican national legislation. In the present campaign the Republicans had charged Aycock's administration with extravagance. He denied the charge but pleaded guilty to spending more money than had been spent under the previous four years' administration. But for what had it been spent? The Confederate soldier and widow's appeal had been heard and he would to God that we had more money to spend in the same way. The insane found in the county jails and poor houses at the close of Russell's administration had made a pitiful appeal and they had been cared for—a thousand in the hospital at Morganton, more than 400 in Raleigh and over 600 in Goldsboro. The Democracy had no apologies to make for that expenditure. The appeal of the poor, unfortunate deaf, dumb and blind had been heard. It would have been cruel to have done otherwise than for the State to have thrown its sheltering arms around those. More money than ever before had been spent for public education and 40,000 more children than ever before are now in schools; over 500 young men are at the university; more than 500 young ladies are being educated in Greensboro and 500 boys are being given industrial training, at the State A. & M. College. Would the Republicans turn these children from the public schools or drive away the young men and women from these higher institutions? Taking out all these expenditures, which he challenged the Republicans to prove were extravagantly made, and this administration has spent $157,000 less than Russell's.

The Democrats had established the railroads commission and now the railroads are uncomplainingly paying one fifth of the taxes of the State. The insurance department has doubled its revenue and the penitentiary, which had been run in debt $200,000 by the Republicans, is made more than self-sustaining.

Mr. Patterson referred to the scandals connected with the last State administration and challenged the Republicans to show one against Democratic rule. Passing on to national issues, Mr. Roosevelt was berated for his writings, defaming the South and her people. The speaker said four years ago he had resolved to let the negro question remain settled—it had been very neatly settled in Wilmington—but in the plank of the Republican platform threatening to reduce Southern representation and asking Congress, a law-making body, to judicially determine the question of negro suffrage in the South, they had invited the issue again and he would not fail to discuss it. He paid his respects to the Booker Washington dining, the Crum appointment at Charleston; the Indianola postoffice incident; the national convention episode and the sham fight of the National administration against the trusts, charging Mr. Cortelyou with using information gained while secretary of Commerce and Labor to extort money for campaign purposes from tariff-fostered monopolies.

Mr. Patterson hastily referred to the tariff, the Filipino question; the postoffice department scandals and closed with a promise to do all in his power in Congress to promote the interest of the district and his people. He said that within the past few days he had assurances from Chairman Burton, of the River and Harbor Committee, that he would visit Wilmington before the next session of Congress and would give the port all possible consideration in making up the next budget.

Mr. Godwin was introduced and vouched for by his former county man, Treasurer H. McL. Green, of New Hanover. Mr. Godwin is a speaker of commanding presence and an easy flow of language, though suffering last night from throat trouble brought on by a day and night canvass of two weeks in the upper counties of the district. He told a joke at the expense of Mr. Patterson, whom he said had covered all the ground, and confined his discussion to National issues. He spoke very sanguinely of the election of Judge Parker and gave some impressions of his at the great convention which nominated the eminent jurist. The Roosevelt character was thoroughly dissected and a number of new points were brought out that were not reached by Mr. Patterson. It was Mr. Godwin's first appearance before a New Hanover audience, and he expressed great pleasure at being present. He emphasized the importance of a full vote in every county and New Hanover, especially, which embraces the metropolis of the State.

Mr. Patterson speaks to-day at Fayetteville and Mr. Godwin will close his vigorous campaign at Clarkton.

LAUGHTER, TEARS, THRILLS, APPLAUSE

Those be Emotions Awakened in Human Breast by Paul Gilmore's Play.

Edward Everett Hale once said, "Bet on the country, because one of its mottoes is 'Get the Best.'" This "Get-the-Best" principle is just as applicable to a play as to a Senator or a President. American people know and understand this innately and therein lies the answer to the phenomenal popular success—and popular means at once financial and artistic—of "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," the attraction to be seen at the Academy here on Wednesday evening, with Paul Gilmore in the leading role of Lord "Jack" Lumley.

It is a good play because its component parts are the four cardinal principles which make greatness in a play: Laughter, tears, thrills, applause. To continue with Mr. Hale: "We must see that the country has good water, good air, good wood, coal, good men, good women, good newspapers, good books and good plays." The good Lord and many enterprising men have seen to it that we have all these; and Mr. Jules Murry in particular have seen to it that we have good plays, for in presenting Mr. Paul Gilmore again this season as the dear "Mummy" in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," he is giving the theatre-going public a last chance to see one of the best heroic comedy actors on the American stage in the best modern comedy of the present day. "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" is as full of wit as an egg is of meat. Its success has been wonderful. Europe and America have been enthusiastic over the play. It is human nature and therefore universal. Mr. Gilmore has made the greatest personal hit of his career as Lord Lumley, but this season will be his last in the part, as his vehicle for next season has already been chosen.

Chaplain of Theatrical Alliance.

Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of Saint James' Church, has been appointed local chaplain of the Actors' Church Alliance of which Bishop Potter, of New York, is national president. The appointment of chaplains all over the country is simply to have a clergyman in every community who is looked upon by actors as their friend and in whom they may confide. When they are sick or in trouble they feel free to call on the chaplain for advice and such aid as he may be able to give them.

Rain Breaks Up Fair.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "It is still raining as we go to press, at 4:30 o'clock, and there is little prospect of its holding up. A hard rain set in yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, just when the merriment of the Fair was at its height, and has continued steadily since. But for the weather, to day would have seen a big crowd on the grounds to witness the races and tournament, and the second shoot of the Fayetteville Gun Club. The races and the shoot proved star attractions yesterday, and to-day the tournament was to be added, but both had to be called off on account of the weather."

Prominent Kinstonians.

Among yesterday's arrivals were: Messrs. J. W. Grainger, T. W. Mewborn, J. F. Taylor, K. R. Tunstall, L. Hines and D. W. Richardson, prominent business men of Kinston, who came for a conference with A. C. L. officials relative to the establishment of a double daily service on the Kinston branch.

PARKER READY WITH THE PROOF.

It is only sufficient to say that the Republican platform stands pat on the tariff. The beneficiaries thereupon subscribed money to the Republican compaign fund in order to perpetuate the protection iniquity. "Stand pat" was all the promise they wanted and they knew full well what it meant. It is idle, therefore, for Senator Lodge to attempt to reply to Judge Parker's grave charge that the trusts are furnishing the money to elect Roosevelt, by declaring that "neither the President nor Mr. Cortelyou has made any promises to the trusts with regard to the future."

A stand pat platform was enough promise for the trusts, so no promises were required from Roosevelt or Cortelyou. The fact is that Judge Parker did not charge that any such promise was made by President Roosevelt or Chairman Cortelyou. In his Jersey City speech he charged that the trusts subscribed money to elect Roosevelt, and that Cortelyou, the man who holds the Trust secrets, was the man selected by the President to secure campaign funds from the trusts. He declared that "only two persons can interest the people" in the way of a denial of or statement about that charge. Those two men are Roosevelt and Cortelyou, and they are the ones, and not Lodge, who were challenged by Judge Parker. Neither have answered, and neither dare to deny that Cortelyou has secured big contributions from the tariff-fed monopolies, who want more of the good thing and have put up the money to get it through a Republican victory.

Judging from a New York dispatch from a staff correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, Roosevelt and Cortelyou had better not attempt to deny the exact charge brought by Judge Parker. The Sun's correspondent says:

"The speeches of Judge Parker have aroused an intensity of feeling in the campaign and given it a life that was lacking before. The Democrats think the administration has been put on the defensive, and they look to Parker to press this assumed advantage. The Democratic candidate is determined to provoke a reply to the charge of partnership with the trusts from either the President or Cortelyou, if he can; or, failing in this, keep repeating the charge with greater and greater emphasis, holding that silence on the part of the two men, who alone, he claims, can answer it, is tantamount to a confession.

It is hinted that he has specifications and proof to submit in rejoinder if either the President or Cortelyou personally makes denial, and that if it comes to this the situation will grow decidedly interesting. It happens that in this campaign some of the men whose investments and business connections enable them to know how funds of the great corporations are being appropriated, though they are unable to control the disbusements, are Democrats and supporting Parker. It may be, therefore, that Parker has sources of information on which he feels he can rely to prove the charge he makes. The intimation is given that there has been a bitter struggle within the councils of some of the corporations over the question of the right to use money from the common funds of the stockholders to promote the interests of any political party.

Under the surface there is more intensity of feeling over this matter than has yet appeared to the public. Even the large contributors to the Republican campaign fund have become apprehensive lest Parker's charges, though not effective in bringing about Roosevelt's defeat, will compel Roosevelt, if elected, to turn on the trusts with his big stick in order to vindicate himself. They fear the course of the Democratic candidate may thus destroy the value of their investment in the campaign.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HURT.

A dispatch in the Philadelphia Record, dated at Washington on Wednesday, says it has just leaked out that President Roosevelt, in one of his wild cross-country rides Sunday before last, was thrown violently over the head of his horse, and lay unconscious for some moments on a country road five or six miles out in Maryland, with no one near to give him assistance.

As usual, when he leaves the White House, he was followed to the line of the District of Columbia by Secret Service men. The latter then left him, and he went on alone, having failed to take with him the military orderly who is in the habit of accompanying him on horseback.

Getting far out in the country, the President found several level pastures, across which he spurred his horse, taking the fences with a rush. Beyond one of the fences he struck a sunken road, and in getting into this at full speed, the horse stumbled and the President took a violent header.

People at a distance who ran to his assistance, found him pulling himself together and remounting his horse. The President had a large part of the skin torn from his forehead and the adjacent scalp and since the fall has worn a plaster on that part of his anatomy. The dispatch goes on to say that newspaper men, regularly stationed at the White House, had been warned, on penalty of being sent away, to say nothing about the affair.

This harum scarum ride by the President is just one of those little incidents in his strenuous life.

THE CHAMBERSBURG RAID RECALLED.

At Chambersburg, Pa., on ednesday afternoon, Mrs. Ellen Cheney McLelland was buried. The Philadelphia papers state that it was owing to her personal plea to Gen. McCausland that saved the eastern section of Chambersburg from destruction by fire when the Confederates raided that place and as a matter of retaliation set fire to some of the buildings. It is stated further that when Gen. Lee encamped near Chambersburg, Mrs. McLellan waited upon him and requested that the Bunkhart flour mill and one of the grocery stores he opened, as the people were starving. Gen. Lee issued an order granting her request and commended Mrs. McLellan for her patriotism. She was a native of Maryland.

This will recall the Chambersburg raid to many North Carolina veterans who took that raid into the "enemy's country" with "Marse Robert." It was forty years ago that the andacious Confederates made the dash into Pennsylvania, and many of those raiders who survived the war now sleep in the grave.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— It is a great tribute to the sanity of Democrats to know that Elijah Dowie has not one among his followers.—Baltimore Sun.

—— It is asserted that the Empress of Korea is an Ohio girl. The fact that she has the office is corroborative evidence. — Washington Post.

—— Jacob S. Coxey, the one-time general of "Coxey's Army," is an ardent advocate of Roosevelt. These military heroes will stand by each other.—Baltimore Sun.

—— Judge Parker's telegram of thanks to Mr. Bryan for his "splendid service" in the West ought not to give the Parker press in New York any serious discomfort. If Judge Parker should be elected, it would have to be admitted even in New York that Mr. Bryan's work in Indiana and vicinity had been a large factor in the Democratic victory.—Springfield Republican.

—— Colorado Republicans are no little concerned over the appeal issued by the president and secretary of the Federated Labor unions of Colorado asking trades unionists everywhere to vote and work for the defeat of President Roosevelt. No plea for support of any other candidate is made, the federation contenting itself with working for Roosevelt's defeat. —Washington Post.

—— The Republican party is in direct partnership with the Trusts. It first empowers the great monopolies and combinations to levy a stipulated tax on products of iron, copper, leather, paper, sugar, lumber and hundreds of other materials, and afterward itself levies upon these creatures of its own creation whatever money is deemed needful to maintain itself in the Government. "Rob to the tariff limit," cries the G. O. P., "but put in my hands enough of the proceeds of your plundering to prevent any tariff reduction." And the Trusts respond. The Trusts could not do business without the aid of the Republican party and the Republican party could not keep control of the Government without the aid of the Trusts. This is the shameful and scandalous truth.—Philadelphia Record.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back for an Old One--How It Is done in Wilmington.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Wilmington citizen.

J. A. White, electrician for the Coast Line Railroad, at Rocky Mount, residing at 206 North Sixth street, says: "I have had great trouble with my back, right across the loins, and when I sit still for a while I hardly knew how to move and when I did you would think I was seventy-five years old. There were pains all over me and I could not tell where they were to strike me. I used liniments and lots of remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and used them. They helped me in a very short time and seemed almost to oil up my joints; in fact, I have not had the pains since I used them."

TWINKLINGS

— He—Cruel woman. Have you the heart to refuse me? She—No; I've given it to another man.—New York Press.

— "Wouldn't you be dreadfully worried if your husband should become a free thinker?" "Yes," replied Mrs. Henpeck, "but there's no reason why I should worry. He doesn't do the thinking for the family."

— "You didn't sing at Von Gelder's reception, did you?" "Yes, I sang twice." "Dear, dear. But I was all the evening so busy trying to get into the refreshment room that I couldn't hear a blessed thing."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

— First Doctor—Well, has our patient appendicitis? What do the medical authorities say? Second Doctor—The medical authorities say that he hasn't, but after consulting Dun and Bradstreet, I'm forced to conclude that he has.—Houston Chronicle.

— "I don't believe the woman who recently moved into the flat across the hall is any better than she should be," remarked Mrs. Naggsby. "Of course not, my dear," rejoined Naggsby, "Who ever heard of a woman that was?"—St. Louis Star.

— "Harold has often told me," said Grayce, "that he would like to to lay the world at my feet." "Yes," responded Gladys, "he has often mentioned to me that they're big enough." And now another sweet girl friendship has gone into a decline.—Houston Chronicle.

— A dispatch sent out from Asheville on Thursday reads like a Jesse James performance. It says: Another desperate hold-up and robbery occurred in the heart of the city this morning, when two men walked into the office of William Johnston, Jr., at 28 Temple Court, and placing a revolver under the nose of D. E. Penland, Mr. Johnston's agent, demanded that he open the office safe under penalty of death. Mr. Penland calmly informed the highwaymen that he did not know the combination. "Then open the other one," said the man, as he jammed the muzzle of the revolver closer to Mr. Penland's face, and at the same time indicated with his left hand a smaller safe that stood in another portion of the room. "I don't know the combination to that one, either," replied the agent, as he counted the bullets in the desperado's pistol. The robber hesitated a moment, and then spying Mr. Penland's pocket-book that lay on the desk, and containing $8, picked it up, and backing to the doorway, warned the agent not to follow, and firing a shot at the occupant of the room, disappeared. The bullet whistled past Mr. Penland's head and buried itself in the corner of the room.

TARIFF AND LABOR.

High Prices for Manufactured Goods and Low Prices for Labor.

Workingmen sell labor and buy goods. It is to their interest to have labor dear and goods cheap. How can a tariff on goods protect labor? It cannot and does not. Workingmen can never be protected by any tariff on goods, while labor is left on the free list and immigrants can flood this country with cheap labor, as they are now doing.

Labor on the free list means the cheapest possible labor in our protected mills. Tariff-taxed goods means the highest possible prices for manufactured goods. This sort of protection works beautifully for the manufacturers, but very poorly for the employees. It is, in fact, a swindle on the American workingman, for it compels him to pay American prices for goods while selling his labor practically at European wages. If day or week wages are higher here it is because our workers do more work and not because of tariff taxes upon goods.

The humbug of the tariff, so far as labor is concerned, was well summed up by Hon. William D. Kelley, a protectionist leader in Congress in 1872, when he said: "Yes, men are on the free list. They cost us not even freight. We promote free trade in men, and it is the only free trade I am prepared to promote."

A tariff on goods, by barring out foreign goods, makes it easy for our manufacturers to form trusts and put up prices. This they have done. Prices are now from 35 to 40 per cent. higher than in 1897, when the Dingley bill, which greatly increased tariff duties on goods, became law. Trusts and monopolies now control the prices of nearly everything. A leading Republican Congressman, Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, had printed in the Congressional Record of February 26, 1903, a list of 800 trusts with a capitalization of nearly $14,000,000,000. The most of these trusts have been formed since 1897.

The Dingley bill did not put a duty on labor to keep out foreigners and to protect American wages. It left labor on the free list and 3,000 immigrants a day, or nearly 1,000,000 a year, are landing in this country to compete with American workingmen and keep wages down. When workingmen strike for higher wages or shorter hours their places are often filled by these foreigners. Many strikes are lost or partly lost, because of this steady inflow of foreigners, all looking for work. If the workers now on strike in the cotton mills, steel mills, beef packing houses, etc., are lost, it will be because there is plenty of idle labor, and it is easy for employers to obtain workers at lower wages. In fact, the employers would not have permitted or encouraged strikes, had it not been for this great influx of foreign labor and for the fact that high tariffs and high trust prices have prostrated our industries and thrown thousands of men out of employment.

The tariff must be changed somehow, if the workingmen are to be benefited by it.

WHAT TWO-DOLLAR WHEAT WILL MEAN.

"May wheat is going to two dollars," is the cry of the gamblers in the wheat pits. Republican organs echo the cry and follow it with "Hurrah for Roosevelt and Prosperity!"

Prosperity for whom? Probably not for the farmer, certainly not for the consumer. If by any chance wheat should go to two dollars a bushel, the price of flour would advance correspondingly. There would be an increase of 100 per cent. in the price of bread. This might please a few people, comparatively speaking, but it would be a great hardship to millions and tens of millions of wage earners who find bread dear enough at present prices. The only way in which bread riots could be prevented if wheat should really go to two dollars per bushel, would be by the repeal of the duty of twenty-five cents per bushel on wheat, and even that might only relieve the situation in a measure. This is one of the many taxes on food stuffs levied to fool the farmer, who in an ordinary year is able to supply the home demand, and to export besides.

A GOOD SIGN IN NEW YORK.

The reappearance of Smith M. Weed as an active Democratic leader in New York State, is another welcome sign of Democratic harmony and coming victory. Mr. Weed was one of Samuel J. Tilden's most aggressive and trusted lieutenants, and during two of the Cleveland campaigns he was conspicuous for successful leadership. In Clinton and adjoining counties Mr. Weed is a political power, and his activity this year will be worth several thousand votes to the Democratic ticket. No Republican, familiar with political conditions in northern New York, will deny this.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The cotton market opened at a decline of four points to an advance of one point, the declines being due to lower cables than expected and liquidation, while as the call progressed and immediately after its completion, it became evident that there were some pretty good buying orders. This demand rallied the market sharply after the opening and January sold up to 10.08 or three points above best price of the previous day, while the general list showed net gains of from four to five points. But the buying closed out at this level, the list turned easier and during the balance of the session showed a declining tendency with trading which at first had been active comparatively quiet. The close was steady though prices were at practically the lowest of the session or a net decline of twelve to fourteen points. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales. The large into-sight figures for the week seemed to operate against the market somewhat, while the forecast calling for clearer weather over the belt in place of recent rains also had a tendency to curtail speculation. Most of the selling during the early session was thought to come from Wall street sources. Later in the session New Orleans appeared to be selling here.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Cotton was quiet at 10.15c, net receipts — bales; gross receipts 3,642 bales; stock 82,885 bales.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 10.15; middling gulf 10.40c; sales 600 bales.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck, and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Monroe Journal: The ignorance that most afflicts this country is not the inability of some of us to read and write, but the intolerance of most of us for other folks' rights and opinions.

— H. A. Latham, retail salesman of the Asheville Ice and Coal Company, died in that city Thursday as the result of injuries sustained yesterday afternoon by being thrown from a street car on the Biltmore line of the Asheville Street Railway Company.

— There are intimations that possibly a baseball league may be formed early next year of Virginia and North Carolina. North Carolina sent no delegates to the recent meeting of baseball men at Richmond, but it is said the matter can yet be arranged.

— Mr. Holmes Owen, of Seventy-first township, Cumberland county, on Thursday, at Fayetteville, went to the sheriff's office to procure the arrest of John Levy, a negro, whom he charges with killing a valuable cow. Then it transpired that Levy has been evading the authorities for five years, and is wanted on the serious charge of attempting criminal assault.

— Charlotte Observer: Mr. D. A. Hurley, formerly agent here for J. W. Larabee & Company, which suspended recently, says that Charlotte creditors will lose nothing, their claims having been placed in the hands of W. B. Dowd, of New York city. He expects himself to lose about $4,000, he says. Mr. Hurley will next Monday begin work here as agent for V. P. Randolph & Company, of Philadelphia, a firm which uses the Murphy wires.

— A correspondent at Maxton writes on Tuesday: In the armory Monday evening, H. L. Godwin, Esq., Democratic candidate for elector in this the Sixth congressional district, addressed a good sized audience on political topics. Mr. Godwin is an effective speaker and his forceful presentation of live issues was interesting and instructive. This campaigner has made a strong canvass and at every point in his district where he has spoken, has ably demonstrated his fitness for the position to which he is an aspirant.

— Charlotte Observer, Nov. 4th: Frank Stevens, a colored man, was sent to jail yesterday by Justices of the Peace T. B. Douglas and C. L. Hunter, on the charge of burglarizing the house of W. E. Luckey, a well known farmer of Long Creek township, last Tuesday night. The negro was caught red-handed by Mr. and Mrs. Luckey, when they returned to their home, after a visit to some neighbors. The negro made as his plea that he was drunk, and, indeed, he was under the influence of liquor and made no attempt at resistance.

— Raleigh Times: This is the way with the world. Twenty-five years ago the writer stood watching for a deer to come his way at a place, then a barren waste. The land could have been bought for fifty cents an acre, and nobody wanted it even at that price. Not a hundred yards from this very spot stands now a modern hotel, lighted up with electricity, and the land, once so poor and worthless, would to-day bring more than a hundred dollars per acre. There are plenty of places in North Carolina which may have a similar history. Where are they?

— Charlotte Observer, Nov. 4: — Word reached here last night of an assault charge which has been brought against a Dr. King, of Albemarle, by a married woman of that town, who is related to the postmaster of Albemarle. The assault is said to have occurred during a professional visit. Dr. King is one of the most substantial men, as well as one of wealthiest, in the community and his friends refuse to countenance any thought of his wrong-doing. He is a young married man and has an excellent reputation. A Charlotte gentleman who was at Albemarle yesterday told The Observer last night that the town was much stirred up over the charge, but that it was a feeling of consternation more than anything else. The charges will be aired a court at Albemarle to-day.

— Near Bald Mountain, on Sunday, William Marrow was shot and killed by Mrs. Phillips, who was Miss Hensley. She was home when Marrow went to the house in an intoxicated condition. He cursed Mrs. Phillips and otherwise acted in an ugly manner. Mrs. Phillips told the man to leave the place, that she did not want to hear such language and would not have it. Marrow, it is said, thereupon started to leave, going down the walk and crossing a fence. After this, however, the man again became offensive and threatened to return to the house. Mrs. Phillips turned and walked into her room picked up a double-barrelled shot gun loaded with large-sized shot, and going out on the porch, told Morrow that if he crossed the fence she would kill him. The man faced Mrs. Philips and the shot gun for an instant and then with an oath started to cross the fence. As he placed one leg over the top panel Mrs. Philips threw the gun to her shoulder and fired. The load took effect in Marrow's abdomen and as he fell backward she fired the second barrel, which also took effect. A physician was summoned but it was realised that the man had received fatal wounds and that little could be done for him. He died in a short time after being shot. Mrs. Philips was arrested and is now confined in the Burnsville jail.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an advertisement of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50 cents, at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

The Board of Education

The trade mark of the National Biscuit Company in sight on the grocer's shelf has done wonders in educating the people to buy Biscuit, Crackers and Wafers in air tight packages instead of paper bags.

It has shown them the only absolutely sure way of getting these products in a good, clean, fresh condition—just as they left the oven—no dust, no odors, no handling.

This trade mark always appears in red and white on each end of the package. It has back of it the guarantee and reputation of the National Biscuit Company and ever stands for the highest quality of baking.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; also is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SATURDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 5.

JUDGE PARKER'S CAMPAIGN

Will Close To-night With a Reception in Brooklyn—He Expects to Return Home Sunday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Judge Parker's active campaign will close to-morrow night when he will meet Democrats of Brooklyn at a reception to be held in the Kings County Democratic Club.

His speaking programme is already at an end. He has no plans for further addresses and it is not likely that he will participate in any more political meetings. Upon his return from Connecticut to-day he went to his rooms at the Hotel Seville, attended to his correspondence and received a few callers.

Immediately after luncheon he took an automobile ride to Central Park. In the evening he dined informally with a close friend.

Judge Parker expects to return to Esopus Sunday morning and remain there until after election. No engagements have been made to receive visitors at Rosemount on Sunday or Monday.

ARBITRATION TREATY.

Formal Negotiations Opened by the U. S. Government With Germany.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Negotiations have been initiated for a treaty of arbitration between Germany and the United States. Several days ago President Roosevelt suggested to Baron Sternburg, the German ambassador, that a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Germany would in his judgment be very desirable. Ambassador Sternburg coincided in this view and told the President that he would enquire of his government what steps, if any, it desired to take in the matter. Late this afternoon Ambassador Sternburg called upon President Roosevelt and informed him that the German government had expressed itself as entirely agreeable to the President's proposition, and that he had been directed to open formal negotiations for such a treaty.

THE WORLD'S COTTON.

HEAVY FIGHTING AT PORT ARTHUR.

Japanese Continue Their Assault, the Russians Making Determined Resistance.

JAPS' LOSSES ARE ENORMOUS

Their Killed and Wounded for the Last Three Months Approximates 40,000. Situation Near Mukden—Japanese Concentrating Forces.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CHE FOO, November 4, 9:30 P. M. —Chinese who left Dalny yesterday evening report that batches of wounded were passing through Dalny. They report also that during the recent battle fresh Japanese troops were constantly going to the front.

It is reported that the Japanese killed or wounded in front of Port Arthur during the last three months approximate 40,000.

There are persistent rumors that the Japanese have occupied the forts of Rihlun mountain and certain forts of the Keekwan mountain group, but well informed Japanese here considered these rumors as premature. These Japanese, however, are confident that the end of the Russian occupation of Port Arthur is fast approaching. They admit that they have been disappointed he etofore, but say that their previous hopes never had such a fact-based foundation as those they at present entertain.

The fact that General Nogi, commander of the third Japanese army before Port Arthur, has allowed the Associated Press dispatches to leave the front, of the base of his operations, is looked upon as strongly indicating the confident spirit of the besiegers.

Further tidings of events at Port Arthur are awaited here with an intensity of interest greater than any displayed since the beginning of the war.

CHE FOO, November 4.—Information has been brought by Chinese that the six days bombardment and desperate efforts on the part of the besiegers to take the fortress at Port Arthur ceased Wednesday. The Japanese took Fort No. 3, but were unable to hold it. The Japanese losses are reported to be enormous.

Fighting Near Mukden.

MUKDEN, Nov. 4.—There was a brisk exchange of artillery fire here yesterday, extending from the village of Linchintoun eastward on both sides of the railroad, but the firing ceased at noon.

The Japanese are continuing their concentration opposite the Russian center. The Japanese positions along their whole line are strongly fortified and they are now entrenched along the Hun river to the westward.

On Monday, on the Russian extreme right, a squadron of Don Cossacks charged a battery of Japanese artillery near Lidantoun. The Cossacks went forward at a gallop through a field of uncut millet against the fire of the battery and had almost reached the guns when a couple of companies of Japanese infantry rose up and poured in several volleys, compelling the cavalrymen to ride out of the field at an even faster pace than when they went in it. The Cossacks lost about twenty-five men.

Assault on Port Arthur Continues.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4.—Advices reaching Shanghai to-day say that the Japanese assault on Port Arthur continues with unabated vigor and that the Russian defence is dogged and determined. The northern portion of east Keekwan mountain has been captured by the Japanese, who hold it under a furious Russian fire. A fort on the inner line of the defences was destroyed by the explosion of a magazine on November 2nd. The casualties of the Japanese are reported to be enormous.

A belief prevails that the Russian warships will make another attempt to escape.

Assaults Unsuccessful.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5, 2:40 P. M. —Great relief is felt here in view of reports indicating that the Japanese assaults on Port Arthur have been unsuccessful. A direct report from the Russian consul at Che Foo says he has received information from Chinese sources that the Japanese finally relinquished the attempt on November 3d, the Mikado's birthday, after losing enormously. The consul says the carnage was awful. The bombardment continued six days without intermission. The Japanese breeched and took Fort Number 3, but according to the Chinese, were forced to abandon it owing to the concentrated fire from the supporting fortifications.

No confirmation has been received here of the report that General Stoessel was wounded.

NORTH SEA INCIDENT.

Cause of Delay in Final Ratification of Convention for an Inquiry.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4, 6:45 P. M.—The delay in the final ratification of the convention for an inquiry into the North Sea incident is over the formulation of the questions which the international commission is to decide. The Russian authorities are anxious to acquaint themselves with the detailed report of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, which was brought here by Captain Clado and his three brother officers to-day, in order to ascertain whether any new questions raised by the report should be included. Both Captain Clado and his comrades upon their arrival at the railroad station this afternoon informed a representative of the Associated Press that they had nothing to say for publication.

MURDER TRIALS IN DUPLIN.

Case of George Daniels Called Yesterday Afternoon—Another on Monday.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

KENANSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 3.—At 9:30 o'clock this morning the special venire of 200 jurors was returned into court and the trial of the case of State vs. Geo. Daniels, charged with murder, was begun. It took nearly all day to get the jury, which is composed of the following persons: W. F. Murphy, R. J. Jones, J. O. Albritton, Geo. W. Mercer, Jasper J. Cottle, D. W. Fussell, J. T. Young, J. King and J. B. Groves. Miss Mary Rogers, of Kinston, is acting as stenographer in the Daniels case.

A special venire of 250 jurors has been drawn and made returnable on Monday next for the trial of the case of State vs. Dan Teachey, also charged with murder. It will likely require the entire week to try the case as there are over 100 witnesses for examination.

Chairman Babcock, of the Republican congressional committee, claims that the Republicans will elect not less than 203 members of the next House, with a probability of at least ten seats more.

McCUE MURDER TRIAL IS NEARING ITS END.

Argument of Counsel Will be Finished To-day and the Case Given to the Jury. Court Crowded With Spectators.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 4.—Judge Morris warned the crowd which packed the Corporation Court when the trial of ex-Mayor McCue was resumed to-day that the first person who might make a demonstration of approval or disapproval would be sent to jail and kept there long enough to make him regret his action. John Lee, chief counsel for the accused, then began the closing argument to the jury for the defence.

Mr. Lee's appeal for his client gave full scope to his power of oratory and command of rhetoric. His conclusions were forcefully presented and at times he was severely critical. Mr. Lee offered an additional batch of letters passing between Mr. and Mrs. McCue, but they were not admitted. He closed shortly after one o'clock with a peroration marked by eloquence and touching references which brought tears to the eyes of the accused and some of the relatives surrounding. This concluded the argument for the defence. A recess was then taken.

When court convened for the afternoon session, Captain Woods, of counsel for the Commonwealth, rose to make an explanation in view of statements made by Mr. Lee. He had not proceeded far when he said he had refused a large fee.

Mr. Lee immediately objected to the statement and moved for the discharge of the jury and the accused.

The court overruled the motion and declined to allow Mr. Woods to continue his explanation.

Frank Gilmer, Commonwealth's attorney for the city of Charlottesville, occupied the whole of the afternoon session, making a final argument for the prosecution. He summed up in a vigorous manner the case of the State. When at 5 p. m. he announced that he would require at least an hour and a half in which to conclude, Judge Morris ordered a recess until to-morrow morning.

The court room was jammed during both sessions, many more seeking admission than could be admitted. Again the section reserved for women was filled to its utmost capacity all day long, and again some who had favored positions did not leave during the midday recess, taking their lunches in their seats. The defendant in addition to the large number of relatives who surrounded him had his two youngest children immediately at his side, with first one and then the other on his lap. The little daughter, Ruby, frequently gave way to tears.

The accused was under a severe strain throughout the afternoon session, but preserved his composure.

Commonwealth Attorney Gilmer will conclude to-morrow forenoon when the case will be given to the jury after a three weeks trial.

A YOUNG WOMAN MURDERED.

Her Mutilated Body Found in the Suburbs of Marshall, Mo.—No Clue to the Murderer.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MARSHALL, MO., Nov. 4.—The dead body of Miss Rosa Butts, aged 25 years, a white servant girl of this city, was found to-day in the suburbs of South Marshall in a pasture. The girl had evidently been murdered. Her throat had been cut with a sharp stick, a piece of which still remained in the flesh, her left ear had been cut off and there was a bullet hole in her head. There was evidence that the girl had made a struggle for her life. A cigarette near the body and bloody tracks leading away from the spot are the only tangible clues. Miss Butts was last seen late Wednesday night last with two young men, one of whom her sister recognized. Neither of the men have been located. A man living near where the body was found reports that he heard screams on Wednesday night, but no search was started for the girl until to day.

RIOTING IN POLAND

A Protest Against Mobilization—Six Persons Killed and Twenty Wounded.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BRESLAU, PRUSSIAN SILESIA, Nov. 4.—Three thousand Poles marched through the streets of Czestochowa, Russian Poland, Wednesday, as a protest against the mobilization. The chief of police and gendarmes ordered the paraders to disperse, but they refused to do so and continued to sing Polish songs. A detachment of infantry then charged the mob with bayonets, with the result that six persons were killed and twenty wounded.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4.—A special dispatch from Mukden says the Japanese are using dogs to locate the positions of the Russian sentinels and outposts.

The Memphis Trotting Association's supplemental Fall meeting has been indefinitely postponed because of adverse weather conditions, and Dan Patch has been shipped to St. Louis.

Four of the ships of the training squadron have arrived in Hampton Roads. They are the Yankee, Minneapolis, Columbia and Prairie. Rear Admiral Bradford will assume command next Tuesday.

A Fall River dispatch says: Steps have been taken to bring about another conference between representatives of the striking cotton mill operatives and the manufacturers to discuss a proposition to submit the strike issue to arbitration.

The Cody Bank robbers have escaped. Members of the posse who have returned to Cody, Wyoming say that the timber in which the outlaws took refuge has been thoroughly beaten and no trace of the men found. The pursuit has not been abandoned, however.

The body of Hunt Chamberlain, aged 30, book-keeper for a wholesale house in Mobile, Ala., and prominent socially, was found in a secluded spot in the western part of the city, with a bullet hole through his head and a revolver at his side. He had not been robbed.

The Rev. Dr. Benjamin F. deCosta, Episcopal clergyman, who about five years ago became a convert to the Roman Catholic church and a year ago was ordained a priest, died yesterday in New York city. He was 74 years of age and had been in poor health for more than a year.

WINDING UP THE ACTIVE CAMPAIGN.

Judge Parker Will Make Reply to Statement by Roosevelt and Speech of Odell.

ANSWER CERTAIN CHARGES.

Rousing Speeches Last Night by Former President Cleveland in Newark, N. J., and Senator Davis at His Home in West Virginia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The statement issued by President Roosevelt in Washington and the speech of Governor Odell in New York to-night, in which the governor made certain charges against the Democratic candidate for President, were shown to Judge Parker at a late hour.

The judge had decided not to make any more speeches during this campaign, but after reading the President's statement and the governor's speech, he announced that he would make a reply, which will be delivered before the Kings County Democratic Club to-morrow night. Judge Parker would make no comment on the statement and speech to-night.

Cleveland at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 4.—With a tribute to the strength and enthusiasm of the first voter, former President Grover Cleveland, in this city to-night, began his second speech of the present campaign. He had waited ten minutes for the cessation of the cheering and noise that his appearance brought forth and for thirty-five minutes after he began his address, 8,000 persons crowded together on the tan-bark of a riding academy, alternately listened and cheered.

The occasion was the closing Democratic rally of the campaign; a rally under the auspices of a club of "First Voters."

The meeting was scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, but as early as 6 o'clock the crowds swarmed around the building and extending across the street, blocked the thoroughfare.

Upon Mr. Cleveland's appearance on the plaform, cheer after cheer rolled from one end of the armory to the other. Men stood upon chairs twirling hats upon canes, women waved handkerchiefs and clapped their gloved fingers, while occasionally, as though in the distance, patriotic airs from the band could be heard.

For ten minutes the former President stood bowing and smiling in acknowledgement, and repeatedly attempted to address the crowd. A halfway quiet was restored and the speech was begun only to be interrupted by another outburst that lasted for three minutes more. It was only when the audience was drowned into silence by the hisses of those desirous of having the former president proceed that Mr. Cleveland could go on.

Mr. Cleveland's remarks upon the needs of a conservative government were received with an outburst almost equal to that at Mr. Cleveland's entrance into the hall, and when he concluded with this appeal: "That the American people may be aroused to their sense of justice by these sentiments," the audience was on its feet, while at the last words of the speaker rallying his hearers to the support of "That noble, that manly standard-bearer, Alton B. Parker," the enthusiasm seemed to gain renewed strength.

Following Mr. Cleveland, former Compitroller of the Currency James H. Eckels, of Chicago, talked on tariff and money questions.

Davis in West Virginia.

ELKINS, W. VA., Nov. 6.—Henry G. Davis appealed to his fellow townsmen to-night to support him as the Democratic nominee for the vice presidency. The appeal was responded to with tumultuous applause by as many of the citizens of Elkins as could get into the local Opera House. Among those who sat behind the senator on the stage were Blane and Davis Elkins, sons of Senator Elkins. The meeting here was the culmination of a day of campaigning on a special train. The train reached Elkins at 1 o'clock.

The appeal of Mr. Davis to his "home folks" as he stated it, was his masterpiece of the campaign. He reviewed the development of his section of the country, in connection with which he frequently mentioned the name of Senator Elkins, who was with him, he said, except politically.

The candidate read a telegram he received to-night from Vice President Landstreet, of the Wabash system, a Republican, he explained, but a staunch supporter of Mr. Davis. Mr. Landstreet said he was now on a tour of the lines of his road in West Virginia in behalf of Mr. Davis. During the day Mr. Davis subordinated national discussion to personal appeals to his neighbors for endorsement.

To-morrow night Mr. Davis will speak at Belington, which will conclude his work in the campaign. His address to-night was supplemented by a comprehensive discussion of the issues by C. Woods Dailey.

PARSONS, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Speaking to an audience which filled the Town Hall, Mr. Davis gave his views on the Panama incident. During the civil war, the United States, he said, had been in the attitude of imploring foreign nations not to recognize the secession of the Southern States. Yet, within forty-eight hours after the revolution at Panama had been decided on at a town meeting, President Roosevelt recognized the new government of Panama and sent warships to keep Colombia from coming within fifty miles of the isthmus. This, Mr. Davis said, was inconsistent with our past attitude.

To City Subscribers.

City subscribers are earnestly requested to report promptly at the STAR office every failure of the carriers to deliver their papers. Under a new system we have adopted we are confident a much more satisfactory city delivery will result provided subscribers will report, either in person or by postal card, every case of negligence on the part of carriers.

The Republicans argue that the Filipinos are not capable of self government. The people of some countries that are autonomic are no more fit to rule than the mass of the Filipinos, but it is not the business of the United States to prepare people of the world for self government. It is about as much as we can do to keep in the middle of the road ourselves when it comes to a matter of self government.

GREAT DAMAGE CAUSED BY A FOG IN NEW YORK.

One Ferry Boat Sunk in Collision—Others Injured—No Loss of Life—Traffic in City Interrupted and Delayed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The ferry boat Columbia, of the Wall Street line, was run into and sunk to-day by the Norwich liner City of Lowell. There wo loss of life. There was a heavy fog on the river at the time of the collision. There were about 150 passengers and 17 teams on board the Columbia at the time of the accident. All of the passengers were taken off in safety, but eight or ten horses were drowned.

The City of Lowell was coming down the river and in the dense fog struck the Columbia amidships, just clear of the paddle-wheel. The Columbia floated around for a while and began to settle. A hawser was thrown from the City of Lowell and the Columbia made fast and all the passengers were taken on board the steamboat. Later, the hawser parted in some unaccountable manner and the Columbia finally sank.

The Garden City, a ferry boat plying between Long Island City and New York, had many narrow escapes from serious damage during one of her trips through the dense fog. Seven times she collided with various craft before she reached her slip in this city. The only serious damage sustained by the Garden City was when she bumped into the big sound steamer Maine. A hole was stove into the ferry boat's side and a portion of her guard-rail was carried away. The hole was far above the water line, however, and the ferry boat did not sink. The Garden City had 100 passengers.

The ferry boat Bommerset was one of the boats in collision with the Garden City. She was not seriously damaged.

The new steamer General Johnson, of the Federal Quartermaster Department, went ashore on Governor's Island during the fog.

In the city the elevated and surface cars suffered serious delay and schedules were practically abandoned. On the elevated lines the dense fog made it impossible for the engineers to distinguish signals at any distance and as a consequence the trains which usually made fast time during the rush hours were driven very slowly and thousands of persons were late in reaching the downtown districts.

A. C. L. NEW LINE TO WEST.

Interesting Railroad Rumor That Emanates from Savannah—May Build.

The Savannah Morning News of Thursday has the following:

Savannah is to have another railroad through the State by the connecting of several lines and the building of forty miles of new road. This is the latest news in railroad matters in Georgia, and in connection with the building of the Savannah, Statesboro and Dublin railroad, a full account of which was published in the Morning News a few days ago, indicates another great movement in the upbuilding of Savannah.

Mention has heretofore been made of the purchase of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah Railroad, from Macon to Validia, by the Atlantic Coast Line. It appears that the announcement of that purchase was not half of the story. It is reported on reliable authority that the Atlantic Coast Line has also bought the Macon and Birmingham Railroad from Macon to LaGrange, and the Atlantic and Florida Railway from Fort Valley to Atlanta, and will connect at Colloden. These acquisitions make a continuous route from Atlanta to Vidalia. From the latter city a railroad is to be built to Way's Stat on, or near it, thereby giving the Atlantic Coast Line a short line from Savannah to the West, and opening a new territory to that system.

The new railroad from Vidalia will pass through Tattnal county, giving Reidsville another railroad, and through the center of Liberty county, and contribute greatly to the prosperity of these counties.

WINTER'S APPROACH

A day of sunshine now and then, but these frosty mornings admonish us that sable Winter is almost here. That suggests the comforts and satisfaction of one of our modern heaters. We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

We are yours just now for stoves and ranges, but all the time for hardware and agricultural implements. Let us serve you.
